A DIFFERENCE.

We heard a Democrat remark, a few days since, that there is now no difference between the Republican and the Democratic party. The saying put us to thinking, and here follows the result of our thoughts: In the first place, it would be anomolous to find, in the same government, two political parties professing or entertaining the same, or so nearly the same, tenets as to be practically identical. History, both ancient and modern, fails to give us one example. It is contrary to the nature of things. Such a fact would put to blush the trite old saw, "birds of a feather flock together." It is as natural and inevitable for men who think alike as regards the science of State policy to associate, to belong to the same organization, as it is for those to do so who adopt the same religious faith and modes of worship. Christians and Jews, Protestants and Catholics, all maintain a wide difference of opinion, and separate organizations. No one ever heard a Jew or Christian, a Catholic or Protestant seriously claim that there was no radical difference between those of distinct religious faith. So is it in politics. Men do, must differ in their views as to the best measures for the preservation and prosperity of a government; and that of the United States had not doffed its swaddling bands before political organizations were formed, as bitterly opposed to each other as they have been in more modern years of the Republic. To a certain extent this is a national necessity. But we return to the present time. Is there any radical difference between the two great, national parties of to-day—Republican and Democratic? There was. Has it ceased? Has the Democracy embraced the Republican faith? Every Democrat responds, "God forbid." Has the Republican party been baptized into the Democratic fold? Not if we are sane. We had occasion to say, in our last issue, when and why the Republican party was born, and to declare that it yet lives. We now ask, in all candor, what fundamental tenet has it ever abandoned, and when? Have its efforts been spasmodic, or its existence ephermarl? Have its schemes of statecraft been visionary, or those of far-seeing, cool, calculating statesmen and philosophers? In its incipient vitality was encased the very life of the nation. Had not the latter been throttled by traitors, the former would never have seen sunlight. And because its converse—the Democracy—was the open apologist of secession and attendant disunion, it sprang into life, sword in hand; took its position in the ranks of political parties, announced its articles of faith, and has ever since been fighting, in forum or field, or both, to maintain the same. Has it succeeded? It has; and the evidence is the prolonged existence of an undivided government. In the hour of our deepest peril, when the clouds of disunion were the blackest and most lowering; when men's hearts failed them with fear; when treason held high head and high carnival, and even strutted the streets of the national citadel, the Democracy, as a party, cried out against armed resistance, and said, "let our erring sister States depart in peace;" hunted in vain on the pages of the Federal constitution for the inherent power of the government to stand up in self-defense, and as late as 1864, at Chicago, in loyal territory, resolved that the war was a failure. Has the party, as such, ever apologized for all this? No. But as an integral part of the preserved Union, it has time and time again apologized to the Rebel States for not having given them "aid and comfort" enough to have saved the "Lost Cause." This cannot be denied. History is, as a rule, scrupulously truthful. How did that defeated party act when the armed rebellion was defeated? for the routing of one was the putting to flight of the other. Did Democrats, as a rule, rejoice when Lee surrendered, and grim-visaged war relaxed its hold? We did not see it. Did not hear or read of it. When the Republican party, true to its war policy in the hour of returning peace; true to itself and the nation, began in sober earnest to work out the grave problem of reconstruction, did the disappointed ally join hands, hearts and talents for its just and early consummation? Let history respond. Its answer is a most legible NO! But as the war was made a success despite that party, so reconstruction was crowned over its opposition. Then came the financial problem. Here arose the mighty question of "sound policy." In such lies the life and well-being of a nation. It keeps away glassy-eyed poisoned-fanged Anarchy; it is the hovering Angel of Peace with balmy wing. Billions had been spent in carrying on the war. In one sense all this was as much a loss as if it had been committed to the flames, or sunk in the depths of the ocean. In another sense, each dollar so expended has been repaid, with the riches of Croesus as interest. But the return of peace found the government profouudly financially embarassed — Democrats said, bankrupt. This problem has been met and most signally solved by the Republican party; but, as in the war and in the arduous task of reconstruction, it was done under the most strenuous, vigilant and unceasing opposition of the Democracy. What has our party proposed that the Democracy has not opposed? Nothing. And when its achievements have stood self-vindicated before the nations, the Old Fossil has not had the manhood to confess. There is a difference to-day. The one is the party of logic, philosophy—progress! The other clings to the decomposing corpse of the dead past, and sees nothing glancing through the vista of the future to give hope or inspiration. We will, doubtless, be taken to task for so much reference to the war of rebellion. Let it come. We can bear it, on our broad Republican shoulders. We have been taught, in childhood, to revere Washington and his compatriots for establishing freedom. We intend to teach our children to reverence Lincoln, Grant, Sherman, and all the dead and living heroes who preserved that boon to us, our posterity, and, we trust, finally to the oppressed of every land.

NEW VOLUME.

The Carson Tribune has entered upon its nineteenth volume and the tenth year of its existence, and in announcing the fact that paper states that it intends to continue and will as heretofore advocate the best interests of that community. We trust the Tribune has a long life of prosperity before it. The only fault we have ever been able to find with the Tribune is that of not receiving it regularly, and hope Brother Parkinson will give us no cause to complain in the future.

At Madison Square, New York, on the 17th inst., Tug Wilson, the champion prize fighter of England, and Sullivan, the champion of America, engaged in a glove fight. The bet was $1.000 and half the gate money that Sullivan would knock Wilson out of time in four rounds. Although America's champion knocked Wilson down twenty-seven times in twelve minutes, and punished him fearfully he failed to knock him out of time, and Wilson won the bet. A prize fight has been arranged between the two pugilists.

Prevent Diphtheria.

A recent report on diphtheria says it is on the increase, owing to the failure of physicians in recognizing its self-propagating properties; to want of systematic nursing of patients suffering from the disease; to incomplete disinfection of the premises attacked; and last, but not least, to the frequent association of convalescents with healthy persons. Filth, whether from dirty rooms, soiled clothing, defective drains and cess-pools, ill-ventilated rooms, poisonous, inodorous gasses, etc., should be regarded as conditions which invite the disease; the apartment set apart for the patient should be divested of all furniture, carpets, curtains and fabrics of any kind not absolutely required; discharges from the nose, mouth and bowels should be distroyed, and all clothing, bed linen, etc., should be thoroughly disinfected before being sent to the general wash. In case of death, all clothing and unimportant articles should be burnt, and the body should be immediately disinfected and put into its coffin, which should be kept permanently closed. There should be no public funeral.

ESMERALDA HERALD.

AURORA, SATURDAY, JULY 22.

Shut Up Shop.

A. C. Raymond has shut up his saddlery and harness shop at Hawthorne, and Tuesday shipped the stock to Bodie.

Change of Time.

The time of departure of the U. S. Stage Company's coaches for Hawthorne has been changed from 4 to 5 A. M. This will be a great convenience to travelers.

The State Fair.

The State Fair, to be held at Reno this Fall, promises to be much better than it was last year. The management are stirring themselves and making extra exertions to prepare for a good time. Programmes will be distributed in a few days.

Coming this Way.

The San Joaquin narrow-gauge railroad has been completed to Lockford, San Joaquin county, and will be pushed forward to the Calaveras Big Trees with dispatch. This done, the end of the railroad will be twenty-two miles nearer to Bodie than Milton, the end of the Stockton and Copperopolis Railroad.

Sheep for Colorado.

This week two bands of sheep from Los Angeles passed through Aurora en route for Colorado. One band numbered 4,500 and the other 2,200. They will go into Winter quarters in Utah, and next Summer proceed to their destination. They gobble up everything eatable, and have left little feed in their wake.

A Lucky Upset.

On the way up to Bodie last Tuesday evening, the buggy containing Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Murphy and infant child, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Quimby, and infant child, was upset and caught the two ladies and children underneath. Very fortunately the only injuries received were a few bruises by the ladies, the little children escaping unhurt.

All Right Again.

The first of the week word was received here that Daniel Holland, Deputy District Attorney at Candelaria, was lying very low with a stroke of paralysis. Thursday District Attorney D. J. Lewis received a dispatch to the effect that Mr. Holland had so far recovered as to be able to attend to business.

Go to Work.

After giving an account of the shipment of bullion from the Cortez mine, the Carson Tribune winds up an article thusly: "And thus is Aurora once more a bullion producing camp. This result will probably induce the people of Aurora to leave their curbstones and go to work again in their mines, of which there are many valuable ones in the locality."

A. O. U. W. Installation.

Last Tuesday evening Bodie Lodge A. O. U. W. installed the following officers for the ensuing term: J. B. Marshall, Past Master Workman; H. E. Wright, Master Workman; Thomas Newman, Foreman; J. H. Vincent, Overseer; J. J. Falkingham, Recorder; N. S. Warren, Receiver; E. V. Upton, Financier; J. A. Grant, Guide; Richard Peeler, Inside Watchman; Wm. DeCamp, Outside Watchman.

Democratic State Committee.

Elsewhere we publish a call for a Democratic State Convention, to be held at Eureka, September 6th, for the purpose of nominating a ticket for State officers and a Congressman-at-large. According to the apportionment made by the State Central Committee, Esmeralda county is entitled to eight delegates to the Democratic State Convention, and will probably be allowed representation on the State ticket. Read the call.

State School Moneys.

State Superintendent of Instruction Sessions has made the second semi-annual apportionment of school moneys for 1882, as follows, on the basis of one dollar and a fraction for each sensus child, there being 10,854 children between the ages of and eighteen years in the State: Churchill, $172 57; Douglas, $604 93; Elko, $1,796 23; Esmeralda, $604 98; Eureka, $1,584 69; Humboldt, $914 82; Lander, $1,037 28; Lincoln, $927 81; Lyon, $844 30; Nye, $385 97; Ormsby, $2,102 41; Storey, $6,828 64; Washoe, $1,746 13; White Pine, $590 08. Total, $20,140 79.

The Shooting at Bodie.

Bodie Miner of Wednesday: A shooting scrape occurred on Green street this morning between Jerry Mahoney and his brother-in-law, Felix Curran, caused by family troubles. Mahoney was taken to Dr. Rogers' office, bleeding profusely, where it was found that he was seriously wounded. As stated by Mahoney, Curran shot him, the ball passing through the calf of the right leg and imbedding itself in the left. In passing through the right leg the ball severed an artery. To gather up this artery was a very difficult operation in surgery.

Sure cure for dyspepsia—Damiana Bitters.

PERSONAL.

S. L. Hanak went out to the Big Indian mine yesterday.

Governor Blasdel is expected to arrive here this evening.

Ex-Senator H. H. Beck, of Reno, paid Aurora a visit last Monday.

Sheriff Robb has been out in the southeastern part of the county the past week.

E. R. Cleveland, of the Bodie Free Press, is in San Francisco pulling the campaign wires.

Mrs. Lee Beam arrived from Wellington Station the first of the week on a visit to friends in Aurora.

Guy Thorpe was in town Tuesday transacting some business for the Gold Mountain Mining Company.

Dr. G. I. Leavitt came up from Mason Valley Thursday. This is the first visit the doctor has paid Aurora for years.

Amos Swan was up from Crabb District Wednesday. He left us some specimens of ore from the mines of that camp.

I. N. Farwell, our County Clerk, came back from California last Saturday night. Ike says it is hotter than h—l in Fresno county.

E. W. Bennett, President of the Big Indian mine, spent several days in Aurora this week settling a little misunderstanding about the mine.

S. A. Knapp, of the firm of Knapp & Laws, merchants at Hawthorne, Luning and Soda Springs, paid the county seat a business visit yesterday.

Adam Gillespie and Louis Sutter, of Bodie, were in town Saturday. Both gentlemen were glad to know of the marked improvement in our mines.

W. P. McIntosh, Superintendent of the Cortez and Lewis Consolidated, in company with A. D. Lewis of New York, visited Bodie Thursday, and inspected the mills there.

R. H. Stevens came up from Candelaria the latter part of last week and has gone to work for Ed. Greeley in the Star Saloon. Bob says old Aurora is about the best place he knows of yet.

Mrs. Clara Powning, wife of C. C. Powning of the Reno Journal, arrived here last Friday to visit Mrs. C. Novacovich and Mrs. I. Levy, cousins. Mrs. Powning formerly resided in Aurora.

Albert D. Lewis, brother of S. W. Lewis, arrived in Aurora from New York last Saturday night. Mr. Lewis has come to stay with us for a time, and look into the merits of our mines, in which he has an interest.

Miss Lizzie Marden left us again yesterday morning for Napa, to pursue her studies. She expects to graduate next May, and will not return home until that time. The good wishes of the young lady's many friends here go with her.

F. A. Angell and Deputy Sheriff James Cardwell were in town from Hawthorne Wednesday. Angell came up to get a peep at a Democrat, as there is no such article in the Hawthorne market, and Cardwell to button hole Deputy Sheriff Brent on matters pertaining to his office.

James Wallingsford Ebeneezer Townsend, local editor of the Reno Gazette, is on a "tower" of inspection. He has visited Bodie, and is now doing Lundy. He will take in Aurora, Sweetwater, Crabb, Silver Glance and other mining districts in this vicinity before he returns to Reno.

Captain Mathewson, Deputy Internal Revenue Collector, visited our town this week and called on our business men. The Captain is a jolly, whole-souled gentleman, and though strict in matters connected with his important position, makes friends wherever he goes.

Candelaria Mines.

The Candelaria True Fissure of last Saturday says of the Northern Belle: Everything is running smoothly at the hoisting works, and all work in the mine is progressing in a satisfactory manner. Mill No. 2 was stopped on the Fourth, and also one day later in the week to clean flues. It is now running steadily, and doing its usual good work. Bullion shipments for the week ending July 13 amount to $19,842.40. Shipments on July account, to the 13th, amount to $25,352.69. In the Mount Diablo good ore—ore running from $30 to $80 per ton—is in sight on several levels. Some high grade ore is being found in the Columbus Consolidated. A piece of ore taken from the old workings of this mine was sent below for assay. The returns were received a day or two ago and it was found to contain $468 per ton. This is flattering to those now resuming operations on the mine, and its workings will be watched with interest.

Ex-Officio Registry Agents.

The Elko Independent calls attention to the fact that a bill drawn by Elko men to repeal that absurd clause in the registration law which required Justices of the Peace, who are ex-officio Registry Agents, to qualify as such, was passed by the Legislature in 1881. Now the oath of office taken by a Justice of the Peace before entering upon the discharge of his duties as such, constitutes him a competent Registry Agent while holding the office of Justice, without further swearing on his part.

MINING NEWS.

What is Doing and Going to be Done.

The incline shaft of the Centennial mine has now reached a depth of 415. At this point the ledge shows fully as well, if not better, than at any point above. The ore carries a greater proportion of silver in the bottom of the shaft, which argues well for the continuance of pay rock to a great depth. The work of hoisting being done by windlass, which is necessarily very slow, work for the present has been suspended in the bottom of the incline. Messrs. Ball & Groth are now taking out a crushing of ore from the stopes on the 50-foot level, and the dump shows a handsome lot of very rich rock.

At the Cortez mine the main force are employed in stoping ore. A few of the miners are prospecting the lower levels, and the development of some very fine bodies of rich ore is the result. Pending arrangements to procure a mill to work the ores of this mine, prospecting will go on.

The east shaft of the Lewis Consolidated has attained a depth of 40 feet. The ledge is much better than at any place above. Assays run up as high as $100 per ton. The west shaft has been cleaned out to the bottom, and a drift is being run to connect the two shafts. The dip of the two veins show that at no great depth they are bound to come together. At that point will be found in our opinion a true fissure vein of good size, the quality is shown in the two shafts to be very fine.

Some very good ore is being taken out of the St. Louis mine on Silver Hill.

There are several other properties being worked in this district, but we have no report from the parties operating them.

LITTLE RACKETS.

The Manhatten mill, at Austin, ships almost $10,000 daily in bullion.

There is a regular rush of visitors and tourists to Lake Tahoe this season.

Deyo & Cottrell are packing wood from Table Mountain to the Del Monte Station.

Tramps are numerous and quite troublesome along the line of the C. P. railroad.

Monday was pay-day at the Lewis Consolidated, and Wednesday the men received their coin from the Cortez Company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the California Central Railway will take place at Hawthorne on next Wednesday.

Times are so hard that it is said married men at summer resorts this season will have to smoke five-cent cigars and flirt with their own wives.

The Democratic County Central Committee will meet at the office of H. W. Barton, in Aurora, on Tuesday next for the purpose of naming time and place of holding a County Convention, apportioning delegates from the several precincts to the same, and transacting such other business as may come up.

Along the Line.

S. A. Knapp informs us that things continue to boom along the line of the C. & C. R. R. both in a mining and business point of view. At Luning business in the town is good. About the usual amount of work is being done in the mining districts surrounding the town, with good results. The copper smelting furnace at Soda Springs is nearly completed, and smelting will commence on the first of next month. Soda Springs now has two stores, one saloon and a boarding-house. At the Salt Marsh, four miles from Soda, there are several men at work. The C. & C. R. R. force are now at work on the summit of the White mountains, and pushing south. Four to five months hence the track will be completed to Bishop Creek.

Eaten Up by Mosquitoes.

In Lida valley last week, says the Lyon County Times of last Saturday, a small band of Indians were camping near some willows where the mosquitoes were very numerous. A squaw left her papoose in the shade while she played Piute poker with her companions. The game was rather high, and became so interesting that she forgot her unfortunate offspring for several hours. When her attention was again directed to the child she discovered that it had been almost eaten up by mosquitoes. They had collected on the little thing in such numbers that its face and arms were completely raw from their attacks. So many had bitten the baby that it died next day from the effects of the poison.

Candidates.

We believe the many friends of Judge T. H. Wells, out of this county as well as in it, would be much pleased to see his name on the Republican State ticket, for such office--Lieutenant Governor, or other—as he might be willing to accept. But we understand he feels little or no inclination to enter the campaign as a candidate, having a large law practice. He may, perhaps, be induced to accept a nomination.

A HAPPY REUNION.

Members of Aurora Lodge of A. O. U. W. Return a Visit of Bodie Lodge A. O. U. W.—How the Brothers of Aurora Lodge were Received.

On the 4th of January last Aurora Lodge No. 13 installed their officers for the term ending June 30th, and were surprised by a delegation of some eight members of Bodie Lodge No. 143, A. O. U. W. dropping in upon them. The Aurorans proved themselves equal to the emergency by entertaining their Bodie brethren in so hospitable a manner that they insisted on the visit being returned. Last Tuesday evening being the time set for installation of officers of Bodie Lodge for the ensuing term, a number of members of Aurora Lodge decided to attend the ceremonies. A four-horse stage was chartered and about 4 o'clock was boarded by G. H. Hatch, G. L. Albright, H. T. Tucker, I. N. Farwell, J. H. Hammond, J. N. Reid, J. Stock and M. M. Glenn of Aurora Lodge, and M. Sullivan, of Colusa (Cal.) Lodge. In a two-seated carriage T. J. Murphy and C. F. Quinby, with their wives, brought up the rear. Arriving in Bodie the delegation was met by members of Bodie Lodge and escorted to the A. O. U. W. hall. There the impressive installation ceremonies were witnessed. District Deputy Grand M. W., T. A. Stephens, being the installing officer. The usual fraternal speeches followed—ad libitum—of promise and congratulation, until anxious glances could be seen directed toward the door. Labor omnia vincit always wins; he did there, for an adjournment was taken to John Wagner's saloon (dining portion), where the banquet board was found bending under the weight of substantials and fruits to larder the inner man. A happy speech of welcome was delivered by J. B. Marshall, P. M. W. and at its close about sixty watering mouths commenced the slaughter. "Mum" is a misnomer, for it opened the souls of those there, to kindly wit, good cheer, fellowship, song and fraternity. Many a toast was given and responded to, and "joy beyond measure" reigned with a royal power. We were gratified to greet Messrs. H. Z. Osborne, of the Free Press; Chas. Jarboe, of the Evening Miner, and R. M. Folger, (Uncle Bob) of the Bridgeport Chronicle-Union, in a scene of so much beneficial hilarity. Like seeks like and those of the "genus scissorus" never throw off on phun. About 1 A. M. the long winks spoke plainly of nature's need, so an adjournment,—this time from refreshments to labor and to rest was called, and with sincere feelings of pleasure unalloyed, reciprocity unbounded, (especially to our bounteous brethren), the common place of life was entered upon. The visiting brethren, (while waiting for their four-in-hand), were Marshalled (!) to listen to Senator Si. Ryan's oration on lying, stealing, swearing and drinking. It was a Reddy and happy extempore; a regular four-ace triumph, and the Moral-es of his hearers were cheered and sustained. With the "all aboard" of Master Workman Reid (pro tem jehu) came the good-bye, and good luck, boys, to speed us on the journey unto home, where we arrived O. K. The entire affair was one of genuine hospitality, whole-souled generosity and courteous treatment by our brethren of No. 143. Long may its memories please the life of those who gave and received. Our response is, "as ye have sown so shall ye reap."

Addenda: A package of peculiar shape and weight was placed in care of M. M. Glenn, with full instructions not to be opened until— the sudden starting of the team here stopped the speaker, but the world knows what Pandora did with her jar—that is what befell us, for we examined and beheld in language spiritual, "compliments of Si. Ryan and J. B. Marshall, to the boys." May old Gabe enter of record their good deeds done in the flesh. Selah!

HAWTHORNE.

A Trip to the City of the Plains—Somewhat of Politics, and Somewhat Not.

We had not time or space last week to make special mention of our visit to Hawthorne, on the 12th inst., in company with a friend, to attend the meeting of the Republican County Central Committee, the proceedings of which were published in the HERALD, (price $5 per annum, in advance,) of the 15th inst. We left Aurora, the county seat, and situs of the Cortez mine, at six o'clock, A. M. on the 12th, conveyed by one of Cobb's spanking teams and a wide-gauge buckboard. Nothing of note impeded our progress or marred our equanimity before reaching that splendid rusticating scene, the residence and fish pool of H. D. Fletcher, Esq., where we refreshed the inner man, greatly to the depletion of friend Fletcher's larder. What a fine thing is an abundance of pure, cold water. Our host there has plenty of it for man, beast and fish. The latter we tried to see, but in vain, as they are shy as a coy maiden of sweet sixteen, and would not be seen. We learn the young ones are now exceedingly numerous, and we presume that, accidents barred, Mr. F. will within two years be supplying Aurora and Bodie with a fine article of carp—a magnificent table fish. The trip from Fletcher's to Hawthorne was without incident, save to contemplate the wisdom of the Creator in placing so much gold and silver in the "rock-ribbed" mountains of Nevada, for there is little else to invite the stranger hither, or occupy him when here. The rough, brown exterior of our mountains frowns, and this anything but inviting; but when touched by the magic wand of the pick they show out to good advantage. Perhaps, after all, it is better that all the good things are not centered in one land, for were it so the people would all wish to be there too—a thing impossible, if the whole face of the earth is to be peopled. Arrived at the City of the Plains, (borrowed expression), just as the C. & C. passenger train got there from Candelaria, and went to the "landing" just in time to receive those robust, war-like Republicans, T. J. Harrington and E. B. Taylor, having in charge those consumptives, James Cross and B. G. Smith. For the latter two we feel profound pity, as the day was warm and they were feeble in flesh. The day was hot, air hotter, sand hottest. The thermometer stood, at Knapp's store, in the shade, at 108, Hawthorne hight! Not much show for a quiet "nap" in such a place. It was much cooler further up the railroad towards Carson, for they burned one freight car to keep the fireman and engineer warm, and started on the second shortly before making Hawthorne. What a striking variety of climate within a radius of 100 miles? We found Hawthore as ever, only more so. One evidence of growing industry and well-planned enterprise, attesting the general get-up-and-get character of every man, woman and child over the age of 21, connected with the C. & C. railroad, or the City of the Plains, is seen in the flourishing green grove of cottonwood and Lombardy poplars, covering the beautiful park in front of that neat but not gaudy passenger depot, which graces the C. & C. We speak the unalloyed, concrete truth when we say that that grove of trees is green. We do not mean green for being in such a locality, but green in color, and because actually in a thriving and prosperous condition. We know they — the trees—have undertaken an herculean task, but suppose they are in sympathy with the denizens, and trying to aid in the effort to make a desert blossom as a rose, or words to that effect. We found a brave as well as hospitable people in the town of H., for they have more "sand" than any other we have met on this side of Milpetas. At 8 P. M. the R. C. C. C. met, appointed delegates to the State Convention, set date of, and apportioned delegations to the County Convention, etc., etc., and made such general executive arrangements as will insure organized energy and effort by our war-born, battle-scarred party, from San Diego to Siskiyou—beg pardon—from Roop to Lincoln; and will place a true, sound, clarion-noted Republican orator on every dump from Empire City to Pah Ranagat! Whoop, hoora! We staid all night at H. Nothing marred our repose in the arms of Murphy during the night, save the blowing down of the spire of the Third Universalist church, 915 Forty-Third street, and the untimely explosion of the City Gas Works; no insurance. The cessation of work on the railroad from Bodie to Benton is fluid on the circumlocutory machine of Hawthorne. "It is an ill-wind that blows nobody any good," as the girl said when her lover blew out the lamp on her pa's arrival. One matter astonished us at Hawthorne and all intermediate ports, namely, the increasing scarcity of Democrats this season. What has become of them? On Thursday we came home to the case, the shears, the forms, the press, and shall, in the future as in the past, cry aloud and spare not for Republicanism, for union and for liberty, now and forever, proud synonyms!

TRIBUTING.

A System that would Work Well in this District.

The plan of leasing mines and working them "on tribute," or for a certain stipulated portion of the proceeds, says the Austin Reveille, has increased continually in favor of late years, and mines are made productive or continued in their remunerativeness that would not be by the more regular methods. Men thus working for themselves will work harder and more effectively than they may for others, and for less pay, always hopeful of better things, and willing to take chances on making more than they can at regular days wages. Thus it is that many of the small rich ledges of the Reese river section are being profitably worked at the present time, which have been or would have been abandoned long ago. There are more "tributers" in the mines of Eureka now than ever before. Only a few days ago three or four miners who have leased a portion of an idle mining location on Ruby Hill shipped eight tons of ore to the Richmond furnaces, which they had taken from above the depth of 30 feet (mere surface ore), and after paying one-fifth of the returns to the owners of the ground had a little dividend of $45 each. As this was the first proceed from the opening of the mine as the ore grows richer with depth they are very well satisfied with their commencement.

Aurora has a vast number of small rich veins and a quantity of large ones that could be worked profitably on the "tribute" system. We feel confident that there is not a mining district in the State that offers better inducements to tributers than ours, providing the mine owners will be reasonable in their demands, and we have no doubt they would be.

Ore Samples.

We should like to see Esmeralda county represented at the Denver Exposition in a mining point of view, and call the attention of mine owners of our county to the following: Everyone collecting ore for the Denver Exposition should remember that three pieces of paying mineral, three pieces of the hanging wall and three pieces of the foot wall are wanted. In size they should be, as near as possible, two by six inches. The more expedition used in collecting the better, and the sooner they are sent in the better.

Tonic and Appetiser—drink Damiana Bitters.

Board and Lodging.

A limited number of persons can be furnished with first-class accommodations, board or lodging, by applying to Mrs. Hickman. Residence, near Exchange Hotel, Aurora. *
